SECTION - A

1. Explain with reference to the context any one of the following passages :
  - a) Through knowing you better, I have come to feel — shall I say ? — a sort of affection for you. I fancy that St. Francis would have called you “little brother”. I cannot go so far as that in Christian charity and civility. But I recognise a more distant relationship.
  - b) In other words, the natural quality of woman is compassion. If you do not have compassion, you are not human. It is therefore, essential for every human being to develop the quality of considerateness, kindness and compassion. Without these qualities, we are only human animals, not more than that.
2. Answer any one of the following questions in not more than 40-50 words :

5. Explain with reference to the context any one of the following extracts :
- a) He that loves a rosy cheek,
Or a coral lip admires
Or from star-like eyes doth seek,
Fuel to maintain his fires ;
As old time makes these decay,
So his flames must waste away.
- b) The old order changeth, yielding place to new,
And God fulfils Himself in many ways,
Lest one good custom should corrupt the world.
- c) The cloud puts forth its deluge
strength,
When lightning cleaves its breast,
When the soul is stirred to its inmost depth,
Great ones unfold their best.

PART - II

- a) Give the substance of the following poem in your own words in about 80 words :

Can I see another's woe,
And not be in sorrow too ?
Can I see another's grief,
And not seek for kind relief ?
Can I see a falling tear,
And not feel my sorrow's share ?
Can a father see his child
Weep, not to be with sorrow filled ?
Can a mother sit and hear
An infant groan, an infant fear ?
No, no ! never can it be !
Never, never can it be !

- b) Write a summary of the following passage in about 60 words :

If I were to try to sum up in a phrase the main difference between the Chinese and ourselves, I should say that they, in the main, aim at enjoyment, while we, in the main, aim at power. We like power over our fellowmen, and we like power over Nature. For the sake of the former, we have built up strong states, and for the sake of latter we have made science. The Chinese are too lazy and good natured for such pursuits.

way of getting their disputes settled in a friendly way. Instead of being jealous of each other and suspicious and proud of their rights, they must learn to be friendly, reasonable and anxious to help each other. And the second thing is the rule of law. Just as the citizens of a country have laws and agree to obey those laws, all nations must agree to obey the laws and feel bound to support them. If all nations work together for the common good of mankind and agree to obey laws, they will never fight each other and there will be no wars.

- a) What are the two ways of checking wars ?
- b) What should we learn to be ?
- c) i) Explain the underlined portions.
- ii) Give a suitable title to the above passage.
